

An abstract graphic featuring numerous thin, vertical black lines of varying lengths and thicknesses, resembling rain falling from the top of the frame. Scattered throughout the upper and middle sections are small black dots of varying sizes, some appearing as stars or distant galaxies. The overall composition is minimalist and evocative of a night sky or a rainy night.

INVITATION